

My Stone Age Quest

As I stepped out of the gloom cave, the morning sun crept over the mountain and I began to feel its warmth. I could see the beautiful, sharp mountains up above. As I took a walk, I could hear the calm singing of the blue, loving birds in the bright sky. Further in the forest, I could smell the fresh, colorful flowers blossoming all around.

When I stepped out of the house I was ready to start my quest. When I left the house the bright sun is shining on me. My eyes are blue and my woolly skin is gold. My hair is black and gold and I can feel it blowing in the wind. I am as brave as a chulab.

Riley and I climbed to the enchanted, foggy forest.

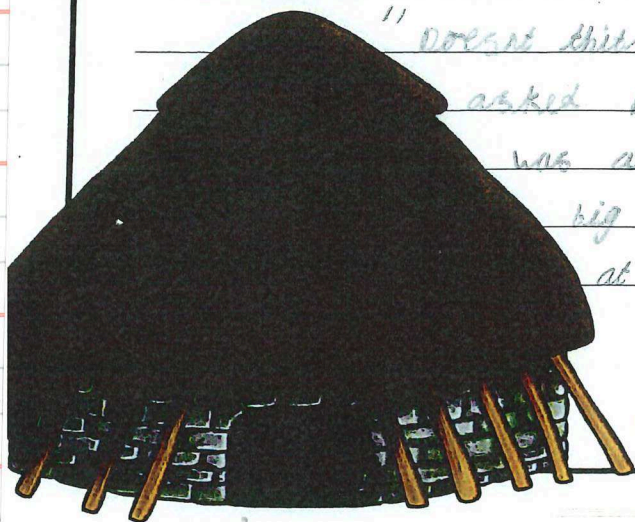

"Doesn't this look strange?"

asked Riley. Suddenly there was a woolly mammoth as

big as a mountain staring

at us "Run!" I shouted.
