

How you can help at home:

There are lots of excellent resources available on the Letters and Sounds YouTube page that you can work through with your child as a means of additional practise. There are also help videos for parents who may be unsure on how to teach phonics correctly.

2) Read, read, read!

Reading with your child every day gives them an opportunity to practise and apply their phonics skills in a different context and is essential in supporting your child to develop their writing ability.

3) Tricky words

Practise the spelling and sight reading of tricky words in order to enable your child to develop confidence in reading and writing these.
